GENERAL BROADWOOD'S REPORT.

We may well congratulate Lt. Col. Barnes and the Corps generally on the excellent report which Major-General Broadwood has made to the Chairman of the Council. Indeed our congratulations should go farther, and be offered. with all respect, to the writer of the report, the General himself, for to our thinking he has favoured us with the most soldierly, the most succinct, and certainly the most sgreeable of annual criticisms. Not a word too much either of praise or blame We have had inspecting officers who have erred in both these ways. Some have cut us up unnecessarily because our needs had not tonded to direct us into the grooves which they specially followed. Many more have gone to the other extreme and given us more of flattery than fact. Still others have made suggestions for changes for no apparent reason than to show their constructive capacity. All these pitfalls General Broadwood's experience and good sense -and perhaps we ought to add, the present condition of the Corps—have enabled him to avoid Our personnel comes from sources which quite satisfy the General's domands, our arms and equipment are "serviceable," our interior economy "well organised and businesslike," and so on. Under the head of recommendations, that quarters is most sound. Whatever the cost this must be assured. A site on the outskirts, if available for nothing, would have to be refused point blank. There must be no misunderstanding on this point.

The one doubtful remark reflects in no adverse sense on the general excellence of the report. We refer to that which "from a military point of view "agrees with the sugges; tion to which we have before alluded, of spreading the training over the year. From a military point of view a professional soldier would naturally see in this nothing but what he is accustomed to and what he is accustomed to might, unless special attention were drawn to the different circumstances, be considered sight without further thought. Experience, however, in the S. V. C. has proved beyond dispute that in times gone by unconcentrated training spelt concentrated ruin. On at least three occasions the corps was on that account practically defunct: at others on the verge of dissolution. We cannot risk that again.—Shanghai Mercury:

DREADNOUGHT HOAX.

THE CULPRITS CANED. The amezing hoar perpetrated by the sham Abyssinian Princes on the officers of H.M.S.

Dreadnought has had an equally amazing

It was found impossible to bring home to these foolish offenders against the dignity of the British Navy any actual breach of the law. The Navy, however, has taken the matter into its own hands, and the "Express" now announces that punishment-informal, but none the less vigorous-bas been meted out to the ringleaders in this stupid practical joke. After diligent inquiries the addresses of the "princes" were obtained, and a command, not in any sonse royal, was forwarded to each of them, explaining that his presence in London was desired.

At the same time it was hinted that if the command were not obeyed the writers of the letter might find it convenient to visit them. With a meakness not usually associated with princes, three of the "Abyssinians" obeyed the written request.

One was seriously ill in bad, while the "lady '59 prince" was absolved from the invitation.

At the time he received the invitation ope of the "princes" was staying in the country, and was compelled to leave a house party in order to obey the summens.

His instructions were to call at the residence of Admiral Sir William May and offer a full apology for the insult to the flagship.

. He proceeded straight to the house, but after being kept waiting on the doorstep for fully twenty minutes, received a curt message fromthe Commander in Chief that his presence was [63 .not desired.

The two other "princes" who were the instigators of the hoax were dealt with less leniently. Young naval officers have a more violent way of administering justice than admirals. They invited one of the "princes" to meet them in a certain house in London, and administered six strokes with a cape.

The second of the two "princes" met with a similar punishment on the following Sunday afternoon." Like his fellow "princes," he also submitted to the castigation with lamblike dacility.

The officers of the Dreadnought now feet that the honour of the Navy is satisfied.

KOTA TINGGI RUBBER.

STATUTORY MEETING OF THE SHAREHOLDERS.

INCREASING OUTPUT REPORTED.

The statutory meeting of the Kota Tinggi (Johore) Rubber Company, Limited, was held at Moorgate Station Chambers, E. C., Mr H. W. Rennie presiding. The notice convening the meeting having been read,

The chairman said he was presiding on this occasion because the chairman himself Mr. L. Byron Peters, together with Mr Hewith was visiting the property during circular tour in the East. Various reports had been received from them, all of which were eminently satisfactory. Mr. Peters reported that everything he had seen fully confirmed the statements made in the prospectus, and no doubt at next mee.ing both he and the his colleague would be able to present much fuller reports than were available at the present time. Personally, he (the chairman) did not know the Kota Tinggi property. It was 20 years ago this month that he went out to the Malay States, and in those days no one there had the slightest idea that the subbar industry would grow in such an extraordinary way as it had done in the last two or three years. Shareholders might take it from him that every statement in the prospectus was absolutely conrect, and might be expected to be fully borne by the results. Of the total nominal capital of £35,000, £12,500 was the full amount paid for the property, and La, 100 represented the preliminary, legal and office expenses, making the total cost of the estate up to the present time about £13,600. The balance of the nominal capital, when fully issued, would all be spent in the development of the estate.

FUTHER DEVELOPMENT.

With regard to the further development, the contracts for extension of planting had been. placed with a most reliable Chinese contractor, and it was estimated that, given fair weather and a fair supply of labour, about which there was very little doubt, the planting of 400 to 500 more acres should be completed within three months from the time the contract was placed, so that by June next they ought to have 670 acres fully planted. The estate had been self-supporting for about two years past; that was to say, the area already in bearing had no. only been making a profit, but paying for the cost of any developments which, had been made on the estate, by the vendors. The output had shown a gradual increase. In February last year the output was 173 lbs. per mouth, which had increased in July to 570 lbs; and he gathered from reports received that the output had since shown a still further increase. It was not proposed at present to make forward contracts, in view of the rising prices for subber. The estimated output mentioned in the prospectus was based only on the 170 acres which had been paying a profit on the whole estate for some time past and the whole of which would be in bearing by ig13. bearing somewhere about 1915, when, of course, the output would be enormously increased. As to the profits which would be made, shareholders could estimate those for themselves, / they could in any way foresce what the price of rubber would be in those days. With regard to wild rubber, according to reports he had seen, it was reckoned pretty good if, in some of the forests in Brazil and other parts of the world, they had one or two trees, to the acre, whereas plantation subber varied from 120 to 150 trees to the acre. It was this that accounted for the difference in the cost of working. . It had been said by reliable authorities that the cost of producing wild subber, was from 23, 9d. per jb. On the Kota Tiuggi estate they could produce plantation rubber at is. and, possibly, when they got into full swing, at

gd. or red. per lb. HAPPY OMENS.

Now, wild rubber produced some 80 per cent. of the world's requirements of subber, so that if the price fell so low that they could not make profits, it meant that 8, per cent. of the world's supply would be absolutely cut off. If the price sell to the actual cost of producing wild rubber-say, 2s. 6d.-they could still pay the dividends foreshadowed in the prospectus. With regard to the present prices of tubber properties and the present boom; no one seemed to have fully foreseen what had actually taken place, and he thought that very few original shareholders in any of the companies were at present holding what they originally held. No doubt many of them, like himself, were simply -regretting-lost-opportunities; His own explanation of the boom was very simple, namely, that rubber estates were valued on too low a basis to start with, and that the demand for raw subber, owing to the development of the electrical industry and of the motor trade had grown so enormously. The fact was that people had been buying subber properties at the mere cost of the uncultivated lands just as if one bought a gold mine at the price of a clay pit. He thought that before long the principal companies would have teached a level which might be looked upon as the real market value of the properties. Some neonle talked of a slump coming, but it was o little previous to talk about slumps when companies were paying 100 per cent. and 250 per cent., and there were prospects of even 500 per cent, and 600 per cent, being paid in dividends, These, he would point out, were not paper dividends, but solid cash, and, therefore, the subber boom was not to be regarded as being on the same level as the South Sea bubble, or even the cycle boom of 1895 and 1896, In conclusion, the chairman congratulated the shareholders upon being interested as planters. and not speculators, in one of the soundest and cleanest propositions which had been placed

MALICE AFORETHOUGHT.

What a set of unconsciouable dogs the police or a poor felon escape without having to kill somebody! Fortunately there seems to be a certain sympathy for sport, if not in the Law, in those who administer it, Bench or juty. Indian watchmen are cheap, and who would deprive a night robber of his chance of escaping the wicked police, if that chance depends on the robber's sport, his excitement in evading capture, his armed determination to resist it, and the pure fun of ramming a "horrible murderous weapon" into a meddlesome British Indian who endeavours to do his duty as a myrmidon of the King's peace? Not we, now that we know that we may not assault a felon attempting to escape. If we try to do what all our lives we have believed was our duty, and interfele with an escaping burglar's sport, we are assaulting him, and our assault an oun s to provocation sufficient to reduce the guilt of murder to that of manslaughter; or indeed it would seem according to one argument advanced in favour of the assassin Wong Ming, if he st.bs a murderous knife into a man's side with such. force that it goes deep into the muscles of his back, inflicting a wound so dangerous that kills him a few days afterwards, the sportsman, being the first to be assaulted is merely action , in self-defence if he so uses his keife, the only weapon he possesses. At the Criminal Sessions yesterday the jury took this binevolent view of Wong Ming's brilliant engagement with the interfering watchman, Fakir Sin,h. The latter was killed by Wong Ming, whom he in the execution of his obvious duty had seized blood has been shed in the execution of his duty. Wong Ming, weaponed and ferocious, goes by night to commit robbery under arms. Interrupted and put to flight he does not hesitate to use his "horrible, murderous" kaife, and slays Fakir Singh. If Wong Ming shed Fakir Singh's blood without malice aforethought, what malice aforethought? His Lordship sentenced Wong Ming, found guilty of manslaughter by a Hongkong jury, to twenty years' murder, and had, with self-restraint no doubt,

He proceeded to his dwelling to obtain the keys but as he did not take the trouble to return to the vessel, the boxes were dumped on the wharf and the Police were at the same time notified of the occurrence, whereupon Detective-Sergeant Murchy went to investigate. In rising to move the following resolution: ---We, the members of the Legislative Council of Hongkong, tender our humble duty and desire with profound respect to convey to Your Most Gracious Majesty on the occasion of your accession to the Throne of Your Majesty's Ances. tors our sentiments of devotion and logalty to Your Majesty. We invoke God's blessing upon the beloved and revered Sovereign King Edward VII., and we pray that to Your Majesty there may be granted a long and glorious , reign over a united and prosperous

It was the fervent prayer of every member of that Council and every subject of His. Majesty that Almighty God may favour him with a long life and a glorious reign

Dr. Ho Kai, in seconding the resolution, said that he felt sure that in doing so he had the entire approval and support of his colleagues and the concurrence of the various communi ties whom they had the honour of representing on that Council. The British subjects all over the Empire were noted for their loyalty and devotion to the Thrope and they had on more than one occasion demonstrated their loyalty in no uncertain way. They were devoted to the Family who gave them such gracious Sovereigns as the late Queen Victoria of beloved memory and in coming to the conclusion that the men went | those ru'ers the whole Empire bad pro- Buildings Ordinance, 1903, for the following to the house in question with the purpose of gressed. The resolution was unanimously adopted. ROYAL SQUARE.

Hop. Mr. M. Stewart asked the following I questions of which he had given notice:-(a) Did the Governor of the Colony in this Council on the 20th July, 1904, accurately state the intentions of the Government when he said hope that nothing will ever be built upon it. propose that the ground shall be made a public gurden. . . My idea is that the ground shall be preserved as an open space entirely and add to the beauty of the place "?" (6) Did the Honourable the Director of Pub. lic Works (then as now Mr. Chatham) at the to Counsel and solicitors for prisoners in official cer, mony of laying the foundation stone | canital cases. of the new Law Courts, on November the 12th. 1903, in the presence of the Governor of the Colony, the Hon, the Colonial Secretary (then Mr. now Sir Henry May), and many high Government officials, accurately state the intenlious of the Government when he read from a written document this announcement : "The area to the north of this will, therefore, remain unbuilt upon, and an almost unrivalled site for the Courts, having regard to the open spaces which will adjoin them on three sides, will thus be crested?"

(c) Did His Excellency Sir Frederick Lugard accurately state the Intentions of the Government when, on the 28th October, 1979, he said in this Council, in reply to a question whother the Government would undertake to have the plot in question cleared and made presentable as soon as it was no longer necessary to the work on the Law Courts and Post Office to maintain it in its present untidy state: "the present intention of the Government is to clear the plot as soon as it can be done "?

The Colonial Secretary :-No, the statement by Sir H. Blake was only the expression of a personal hope. No steps were taken by him by legislation or by recommendation to the Secretary of State in order to get the plot dedicated to the public as

The Director of Public Works on the occasion referred to merely re-echeed the personal wish of Sir H. Blake. Neither he nor Sir H Blake "had any authority to declare that the for these seats. Enter by the west end door. area would be reserved as an open space. The remarks of Sir F. Lugard applied to the removal in due course from the area of certain matsheds which had been complained of as nosightly. His words disclose no suggestion that the area thould be permanently reserved as an open space.

HILLSIDE FIRES. . ". Pursuant to notice Eon. Mr. M. Stewart also asked :— In view of the extensive destruction of trees caused by the recent hillside fires in the vicinity of Aberdeen, and the circumstance that many of these separate conflagrations recurred simultaneously-some "on this island, and others on the island of Ap li-chau-will the Government inform the Council what steps have since been taken to guard against woodland incondiarism among the villagers and bat-people of this particular district? The Colonial Secretary replied: The fires referred to were caused by burning of joss papers at the Tsing Ming Festival. The following steps were taken before and at time of the fires. Fire barriers were cleared as usual in the autumn. About a fortnight before the festival notices in Chinese were posted up in Pokfulam, Aberdeen, Aplichau, Little Hongkong and other villages in the Island warning the people to be careful in the burning of joss sticks and papers and the firing of crackers at the tembs. On the day of the festival, foresters and coolies obtained especially for the purpose were posted at all the Cemeteries, but owing to the dryness the vegetation on account of the absence of rain, and the very strong wind blowing at the time the men were unable to keep the fires in check. More men were obtained from Pokiulam and Aberdeen and the Police at both places rendered valuable assistance.

On Mt. Kellett the fire crossed two barriers in succession, the sparks having been carried across by the wind. 'The Superintendent' of the Botanical and Forestry Department was at Mt. Kellett himself and saw the great difficulty the men had in dealing with the fires on this particular occasion. Precattions similar to the above will be taken in the future.

DECOYING A CHILD.

A THIRTEEN-YEAR-OLD YOUTH WHO WAS. SEIZED WITH THE GLAMOUR . OF STAGE LIFE.

Before Hon, Mr. W. Ross-Davies, K.C. Acting Chief Justice, at the Criminal Sessions this morning Chan thi was indicted on a charge of harbouring a 13-year-old child with intent to deprive the parent of the passession of the child and decoying same from the Colony in April last. Mr. M. W. Slade, K C., Acting Attorney-General, instructed by Mr. H. L. Donnys, Sr. from the Crewa Solicitor's office, prosecuted. Prisoner was undefended and entered a plea of not guilty. The jurors were as follows:-Messrs. G. Rapp (toreman), D. Macras, V. L. dos Re. medios, E, Raymond, J. W. King, L. A. Rose and J. O. V. Ribeiro. Mr. Slade in opening said that the only difficulty the jury would have in that case was with regard to what defendant said in his statement. In order to find, a man guilty of a crime of that nature under their law they must be convinced that the man had made use of some kind of fraud to get a child out of the Colony In that case the prisoner was charged with the serious crime of decoving a child and harbouring it after it had been taken away from its father. One thing which was necessary in all cases of that nature was that they must be satisfied that there must have been some sort of a fraud used to get the child along. The facts were that the youngster was up-country at the time of the occurrence and prisoner got into communication with him and promised to make him an actor. As they al knew, the glamour of the stage generally seized upon all boys, and in that case the boy agreed to go with the prisoner, as he was promised quite a good salary. The boy was taken on Board a boat but, needless to relate, he was not made an actor. The man said in his state. ment that the boy was not fit to be an actor. as he had a sore foot, but what did he do? He did not return him to his parent but admitted having tried to sell him, because the boy said he wanted to be sold. "The jury must be saisfied that prisoner had promised to make the bey an actor as a lure to take him away from his parect. If they did not think that the promise was made with the object of persuading | 3:1,775 letters, 17,401 other-articles,-and-4:856 the boy to get him away from his parent, then their duty was to find him not guilty. The whole thing amounted to this-was there some fraud on the part of the prisoner by which he persuaded the boy to get away?

REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE.

5 A statement of revenue and expenditure is given in Table III." Revenue amounted in $1:4,046 58 showing an locrease of $31614.58 being due to increase of business. The exprinditure amounted to $510,720.99 bring an incrosse of $139,243 82 on the expend ture of the provious year. This proportionately large increase in expenditure was due to the followit E. reasons:-In the year 1908 only three of the quarterly payments of the contribution towards the subsidy to the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company for the carriage of malls were paid, while during the year under review the quarterly payment in arrear together. with the full yearly payment were made. Of the payments under this head of expenditure $32,596.63 was in respect of the year 1909. Other Mail Transit payments also show an increase of $71.975.10, due largely to the payments made to Chica, Japan and Russia for the cartings of mails despatched by the trans-Siberian Railway, Since the last statistics were taken for transit payments on account of mails despatched by this route, the weight of mails despatched, especially from Hongkong, has greatly increased, owing to a better service, and in consequence after the next statistics have been taken in the year 1911 these payments will be still more increased.

6. Table IV shows a comparative statement of the sale of postage stamps at the various British. Postal Agencies in China for the years 1908 and 1000. Table V shows the number of stamps of different denominations issued for sale during the years ign8 and toog. Table VI shows a statement of Revinue and Expenditure for the last ten years. The total number of articles dealt with in the Dead Letter Office at Hongkong was 102,050, made up as ifollows :- Returned to Hongkong from other offices 48,649 and returned by Hongkong to offices from which they originated 54.301. This is an increase of 3.709 on the total of last year. Of the letters returned to, and originating from Hongkong, it was possible to return to the senders 12,991. There were undeliverable by the General Post Office and the two Branch + ost Offices: - Foreign letters e'c., 26, 138, Loitery Letters, etc., 13,189 and Local Letters, etc., 4,155. The first and second of these are included in the total of those returned by Hongkong to offices of origin, and of the last, mentioned it was possible to return to

There were 50 unregistered letters in which were found articles of value:—(vis., silver spoons, leather pocket books, broach, silver hat pins, silver chains, purses, &c., &a) and miney (consisting of drafts, bank notes, money orders, postal notes, postage stamps, and coin) to the value of £28.16.3. These, when possible, were subject to registration and returned to senders. Two hundred and eightean Chinese letters were found to contain coin (mostly Cash), but with the exception of addresses, and which were compulsori'y registered for return to the studers, the remainder were destroyed and the contents converted into-Horgkong money and paid into Revenue. Two hundred and forty five post cards bearing imitation of owtage stamps and addressed to the United Kingdom were withdr wn from the mails, the regulations of that country prohibiting their being forwarded. 11. The total-number of Chinese registered article's delivered by this Branch was 183,805 of which 11:3,436 were from America and Canada and 64,369 from China and other countries. This shows a decrease as compared with the year 1908 of 3,185 and an increase of 20,885 as compared with the year 1907. The amount of ordinary correspondence dealt with has largely increased; the increase being mainly due to the letter carrier licences being no longer issued. The number of Postal Hong licences issued during the year was 37, 36 tenewals and one new licence. This number shows a decrease of one license compared with the previous year. The letter carrier licences were abolished as the necessity for such no longer

In addition to the above 1,189 Hong Pack is were despatched to Canton and 18,192 received. The number of Hong Packets are diminishing while the number of ordinary letters are increasing, which shows that the Chinese are sending their correspondonce more through the ordinary post than was pared with $73,174.10 in the previous year. MISCELLANEOUS. 13. The Cash on Delivery system, as applied to parcels, was storted between Hongkong and the United Kingdom, and the Straits Seltiements. ### BOTANIC GARDENS.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT FOR 1909.

The report of the Superintendent, Botanical and Forestry Department (Mr. W. J. Tutcher) for last year, was laid before the Legislature Council this afterno. n. It etites in part BOTANIC GARDENS.

With the exception of the mo, th of October the year on the whole was a very favourable one for gardening. The rainfall for October was the greatest on record, and, in addition there was a gale of considerable force on the 19th of the mooth.

For many years endeavours have been made, with little success, to flower Sweet Peas although at Kowloon and at West Point, places which get much more sunshine than the Botanic Gardens, the results have been more satisfactory. This year, seeds fr m Australia, presented by Mrs. Rowe, flawered freely in April, and were better than anything previously obtained in the Gardens. It is very pleasing to be able to record a still greater success. A few seeds of an ently flowering variety were obtained from Messes, Sutten and Sons and. were sown on the 18th October, and the plants were in full flower on the 30th December.

There was an exceedingly fine show of and presented to the Department. Gladicli in both the Old and New Gardens in May, and Gloxinias made a brilliant display in the No. 3 house in June. In the same house earlier in the year Primul: cheonica was very attractive.

The old dauble flowered Daffodil, bulbs of which were presented to the Gardens by Mr J. Barton, flawered well on the back above the Grevillen walk in the Old Garden.

A very pretty addition to our winter flower. ing plants was made in Monochosma ripartumi. a.sm. Il shrub with panicles of small white flowers which are produced in large quantities . The plant is ensily grown, and is sure to become a general favourite.

An addition to led I vegetables was made by the Tiger Bean, known botanically as Mucuna mivon. Besides being u eful as a vegetable cooked in the same way as French Hehns, it i of great interest botanically. It was first described by Roxburgh, in his Flora Indica in 1832 from cultivated plants at Calculta. Hitherto the plant was not known by Europeans in China, but it was described in Chinese botanical works centuries ago. The reeds from which the plants were raised, were presented to the Gardens by one of the gardeners who brought them back from his native village in Kwangtung, where he says it has been grown to his knowledge for the last forty years,

The flower and vegetable show of the Hongkong Horticultural Society was held in the Gardens on the 26 h of February, and was a great-success horticulturally, but financial results were greatly marred by the wet weather,

The sale of plants by the Department having been stopped, surplus plants remaining over at the end of the previous year, instead of being thrown away, were distributed, without pots, to Mt. Kellet and Aberdeen were made good. members of the Horticultural Society, as it was found that they would produce scarcely arything if sold by auction.

The scheme for the proposed tramway through the New Garden having been dropped, very necessary repairs to the lower walk were taken in hand. The old chunam was taken up and replaced with cement and disintegrated

GOVERNMENT HOUSE GROUNDS.

The construction of the new staircase to the Ball-room necessitated the removal of rmall shrubbery on the north side of the ground. Any shrubs which were worth saving were transplanted elsewhere.

The lawns on the north side of the house were relaid as they had become very uneven. Autumn on the tennis ground, But were kept under by applications of Jeyes' Fluid and water. BLAKE GARDEN.

The vacancles caused by the trees which wer blown down in the previous years were planted up with young trees, and the turf which was damaged by cockchafers was partly renewed, and party replaced with blue grass. (Ophiopogon' PEAK GARDEN.

An extension was begun by continuing the bld enlvert a dirtance of 125 feet, but it was not possible to do any levelling.

WEST END PARK. Several trees were planted and the park kept as tidy a condition as funds would allow.

KINGS PARK. Planting was commenced by putting in up. wards of 400 trees of various kinds, but it is to be regretted that several of these were afterwards stolen by persons unknown, COLONIAL CEMETERY.

Trees were planted in various places and a good deal of turing was done.

ROADS'DE BANKS

The planting of Battery Path Bank was con tlnued, and the Bank between Wyndham Stre and Ice House Lane was planted with blue grave and other ornamental plants. The bank between Upper Albert Road and Garden Road was planted with several species of palms. Dr. E. A. Voreirich, the Consul for Germany, presented several showy South American orchids to the Gardens in exchange for others. A large number of seedlings, of the Coffin Wood tree, Mechilus Nanmu, Hemsl.; were raised in the Albany Nursery from seeds supplied in the Autumn of 1908 by the British C nau', Chengiu, Szechuen; and 14 wardians cases containing 70 plan's each, were despatch. ed to various. British Colonies and India, and one case each to Manila and Tring. tau. As showing how much depends upon the treatment of the cases on board. ship, and the weather eccountered on the voyage, it is only necessary to say that the saedlings sent to Pretorie, with tranship. ment at Calcutta, and which were nearly three months on the voyage, arrived ingood condition

ly, although it was stated in the letter of acknowledgment of the latter, that the packing left nothing to be desired.

THE GALE OF ( CTOBER 19TH, Although the destruction of large trees was small, very considerable damage was done to shrubs in the various gardens and grounds."

BOTANIC GARDENS.

Four smill trees including Bouhinia Blakeana were blown down but were afterwards raised. Numerous Rose tuthes and shrubs were destroyed. Poinsettias in beds which are nearly always a feature in the Gardens in November were very much damaged and, as they had not time to recover, were more or less a failure, STREET TREES. Upwards of 150 young trees in Hongkong and Kowloon were blown over but were afterwards raised, but few big trees were blown down and killed. The Bamboos planted along he Peak Road suffered severely.

The Superintendent, Mr. S. T. Dunn, dercribed a dezen new species of Chinese plants, principally from Hongkong and the New Territories, in two pipers which were published in the Journal of Botany.

A collection of plants from Swatow was made by the Superintendent when on short leave

The Superintendent also presented 16 books, mostly botanical, to the Library, many of which were in several volumes.

The Bureau of Science,-Manile, p esented 478 Philippine plants, Professor Sargent of Harvard U iversity 223 plants from Kwangsi, and the Assi tant Superintendent 1,500 plants from Central China, to the Herbarium.

During the year a list of the native plants of Hongkong, the New Territories and Kwangtung Province has been drawn up with a key to the orders, general and species, and is now nearly complete.

Mis. Gibbs, whose recent untimely death we have to deploye, presented many specimens of local plants to the Herbarium and Captain Hadgins of the s.s. Haiyang presented several specimens collected principally at Foothow.

. The list of additions to the Flora of Hong. kong and the New Territories, is given in a supplement,

A .- Demarcation -- Letters and numbers were painted at their proper places, for the assistance of the Forest Guards, in the vicinity of Victoria (Blocks 1 & z), at Little Hongkong (Block 5), at Aberdeen (Block 6) and at Pekfulam (Block 7.)

Level lines were marked out at Shing Mun-(Block +1) for planting purposes.

B.-FORMATION OF PINE TREE PLANTATIONS An area of about 300 acres in the Harbour Belt was sown (in sites) to the eastward of the plantations formed in 1908, and the failures tast year's plantations in this neighbourhood in the carchment areas of the Kowloon and Tytam Reservoirs and in the felled areas of Fifty pounds of pinesieds were sown broadcast in the Shing Mun Valley! In all 389,290 pils. were sown or planted at a cost of $1,281.

return for work done by them for the Depart. | whilst the amount of tannin present in the bark ment. The work done by the villagers was of various kinds, such as cleaning fire barriers, digging pits for sowing seeds, path making and cord making. In all 27,216 loads, of about fo little tannin to be worth exporting and it would cattles each, were disposed of in this way, and taking the value of a lead at 6 cents, (the villagers had to cut it themselves under the supervision of Foresters), it was a saving to the Government of about $1,; co in cash, The undergrowth was taken out of the following planta-Caterpillars were again troublesome in the tions:--Victoria (1), Wongneichung (2), Shaukiwan (3), Little Hongkong (5), Aberdeen (6), Pokfalam (7), Mongkak (8), Taipo Road (9) and Kowloon Reservois (10). The villages which participated in this work were Aberdeen, Aplichau, Little Hongkong, Mongkok, Poktalam, Shaukiwan, Tai Happ and Wengneichung. This method of paying for work cannot be carried on indefinitely as the undergrowth in the plantations is the result of many years' growth and protection, and its removal will also lower the price of future tenders for tree felling.

D .- PROTECTION PROM FIRE. Old fire barriers were cleaned to the extent of 118,505 feet at a cost of 10,116 leads of brushwood and $51.85 in cash. New barriers, 17 914 feet were made at Tytam and in the Harbour Belt"at a cost of 644 loads of brushwood and $92.61 in cash. Fif.y-stven fires were reported, the largest occurring in 6B where 5% acres were burnt. .

E. FOREST GUARDS' SERVICE.

There were more reports of pine tree and brushwood stealing during the year and more co: victicus than in the previous year. . Notwithstanding the amount of brushwood given to"the various villagers for work done, in every case, with the exception of Aberdeen and Wongneichung, the reports of fuel stealing have nearly doubled, and for Pokfulam they have more than trebled.

During the year an Ordinance was passed amending the Malicious Damage Ordinance of 1865. This will enable the Department to deal with the destruction of trees near villages, when the damage may be reasonably supposed to be the action of residents of the village where such destruction has taken place.

One fuel stealer was banished, on a second conviction, for the unlawful removal of trees from a Government Plantation. With regard to the agreements made with the eccupants of maisheds mentioned in last year's report, a sum of $10 was received for damage done to trees within a radius of 500 yards from such

F .- REVENUE PRILLING.

In October, a contract was signed whereby whilst those shipped to Caylon suffered severe. | the Government agreed to sell 710 acres of ping tree plantallogs to be felled under the Hoppy Velley.

Block System. These plantations were situated at Mt. Davis (7G), Aberdeen (7D & 6B), and Tytam (4B & E). The contract is to extend over 3 years and not more than 280 acres or less than 200 acres are to be felled in one year. All trees within 30 ft. main roads are to be left within 30 ft. of main roads are to be left and all plue trees under 6 inches in circumference. The first instalment received by the Government in connection with this contract amounted to $4,091.67. A system of selling brushwood was cut down by the villagers of different places and the largest of it put into cords, the villagers receiving a certain amount of the small shrubs in return for the work done by them. The cords were then sold to a contractor at a fixed rate. A sum of $546.L# was received from this source. The total amount received from felling, including thinning ,was $6,145.79.

COMMERCIAL INVESTIGATIONS. Lists of the vegetable drugs of Hongkong, samples of many of which had already been forwarded, were sent to the lirector of the Imperial Institute, London, for a report as to whether any of them contained medicinal or toxic qualities, or had economic value." These lists were submitted by the Director of the Imperial Institute to the British Pharmacorccia Committee of the General Medical Council, the Secretary of which replied that the Committes did not feel there were sufficient indications of the extent of employment of individual plants to say which, if any, should merit inclusion in the Colonial Addendum to the British Pharmacopice a. The Director of the Imperial lostitute added that he did not think any of the plants in the list were likely to yield products of economic value not already known, The Government is greatly indebted to Dr. Ho Kai for supplying valuable information in regard to these drugs, without which the investigations would have taken years complete.

Seeds of Aleurites Fordii, Aleurites cordata, Aleurites trilobs, Soja hispids, Perills ocym. ides and banks of the above three species of Alcurites, as well as several kinds of vegetable oils, were also sent to the Director of the Imperial Institute for a report as to their commercial value and suitability for the English

Professor Donstan reported that the back of Alcurites Fordii could be used locally as a tanning agent and would yield leather of fair quality, especially if employed in admixture with a mellower and richer tanning material, such as myrabolans, but that the barks of the other two species were useless as tanning rai conclusions on the three species;-"Tae suggestion that the barks of Alsurites cerdata and Aleurites Fordii might be examined as tanning materials was made in a letter dated 21st May, 1909, from the Imperial Institule to the uprintendent of the Botanical and Forestry Department at Hongkong as the result o' statements made in German technical journals, that the bark of Alcurites cordata is rich in tana v. A similar assertion has recently been made regarding the bark of Alcurities moluciar a (Alcuvites triloda).

The following are Professor Dunstan's gene-

The tesults now recorded do not bear out Large quantities of undergrowth were given littleda contains enough tannin to made to the villagers in Hongkong and Kowloon in it uitable for use as tanning material, Aleurites Fordis is small. Of the three barks, only that of Aleurites Fordit could be used for tanning, but even this material contains too only be sui able for local use,

It seems unlikely that the present results differ from those previously recorded owing to differences in the ages of the trees yielding the barks. The three samples of bark forwarded from Hongkong were apparently obtained from fairly old trees, and as a rule the percentage of tannin in the bark increases with the age of the trer. It is it, refore improbable that the deficiency of thumo in the present specimens is

If these samples of various Alcusite's barks from Hongkoog may be taken as typical and fairly tepresentative of the barks produced by these trees elsewhere, it would appear that the slatements made regarding their richness in tannin are inaccurate, possibly owing to the examination of unauthenticated material."

The Superiotendent, Mr. S. T. Dunn, was absent on vacation leave for 9 days between the 6th and 19th April, and from the 23rd October to the end of the year, and the Assistant Superintendent Mr. W. J. Tutcher from the 26th April to 24th May, and from the 4th to 31st August.

Details of Revenue are given in Table V. The percentage of revenue to expenditure was 26 12 as compared with 23 63, in the preceding year: A comparative statement of Revenue and Expenditure for the last to years is shown
